PRESS RELEASE

Create awareness on the welfare schemes: Governor to Trade Union representatives

The Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Shri P.B. Acharya met the representatives of 12 (twelve) Trade Unions under the Joint Working Committee of Arunachal Pradesh Trade Unions at Raj Bhavan, Itanagar on 11th April 2017.

Interacting with them, the Governor said that Trade Unions are one of the important parts of the society, but for greater good it needs to work under the prescribed framework of the Trade Union laws. To become successful, every worker particularly trade Union leader must be well acquainted with upto date labour law and other provisions applicable for the welfare of labourers. The Union must take care of each and every member, their families and welfare.

Expressing his concerns on the unorganised labourers, who are the important section of the economy, the Governor said that the Union leaders should voice the grievances and problems of the labourer. If we strengthen the labour class, we can strengthen the State and help in Nation building, the Governor pointed.

The Governor called upon the Union representatives to create awareness on the welfare schemes such as Jan Dhan Yojana and Atal Pension Yojana etc. and assistance their members in availing benefits.

The Trade Union representatives also submitted some problems and challenges of the labour community of the State for the perusal of the Governor.
