Agriculture Minister calls on the Governor

Governor appreciates Agriculture Minister and his team

Make Arunachal Pradesh self sustaining through agriculture and allied sectors, involving agrarian community and the youth: Governor

Encourage youth to strive for entrepreneurship in agriculture and allied sectors vigorously: Governor

The State Minister for agriculture, horticulture, animal husbandry & veterinary, dairy development and fisheries, Er. Tage Taki called on the Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Brig. (Dr.) B.D. Mishra (Retd.) at Raj Bhavan, Itanagar on 12th May 2020. They discussed various ways ahead to make the State self sustaining through agriculture and allied sectors, involving agrarian community and the youth.

The Governor appreciated the minister and his team for their proactive role in ensuring agricultural, horticultural, dairy and fishery produces available to the people during the lockdown period in different parts of the State. He advised the minister to explore more ways to directly buy farmer's farm produce and sell in the market, which will prevent illegal hoardings.

The Governor suggested to the minister for strengthening the demonstration and research farms in the districts, so that at times of need, the people can procure required food stuffs from such institutes. He advised the minister to create system for support of growing, tending and marketing the Big Cardamom, so that the farmers' income can increase.

The Governor also suggested him to encourage youth to strive for entrepreneurship in agriculture and allied sectors vigorously and at the same time motivate the field officers linked with agriculture, horticulture, animal husbandry, veterinary, dairy development and fisheries to imbibe out of the box professional approach in their fields of duties.

Earlier, the minister briefed the Governor about the initiatives taken by the State Government in agriculture, horticulture, animal husbandry, veterinary, dairy development and fisheries sectors.
