

GOVERNOR'S SECRETARIAT
ARUNACHAL PRADESH
ITANAGAR

PRESS RELEASE

Governor greets the teaching community

The Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Brig. (Dr.) B. D. Mishra (Retd.) has conveyed his warm greetings to the people of the State and learned members of the teaching community on the occasion of Teachers' Day, which commemorates the birth anniversary of one of the most illustrious sons of India and our former President, Bharat Ratna Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan. He expressed his hope that the occasion will inspire members of the noble profession to rededicate themselves towards imparting knowledge and value-based education.

In his message, the Governor said that Dr. Radhakrishnan was a great philosopher, a humanist and above of all, an exemplary teacher. To his colleagues, he was someone who was warm at heart. He was an epitome of knowledge, a strict disciplinarian and yet, always approachable. Whatever position he held, whether Ambassador or Vice President or the President of the country, he remained a teacher at heart throughout. The teaching profession was his first love and those who studied under him, remember with gratitude, his great qualities as a teacher.

The Governor said that the teachers play a key role in student's life in particular and society in general. With their far-sighted vision, knowledge, and experience, they have a huge impact on the growth, development, and well being of the students and in turn that of the Nation. On the momentous occasion, he called upon members of the teaching fraternity to follow the path of righteousness and high morals of Dr. Radhakrishnan.

May the celebrations of this Day inspire us to follow the ideals and values practiced by Dr. Radhakrishnan, which were in the best traditions of our great Gurukula teachers of ancient times, and this immensely contributed to the building of an united, vibrant and dynamic Bharat, the Governor wished.

On this Day I would also like to appeal to all my Arunachali Brothers and Sisters, teachers and students to fight the menace of COVID19 Pandemic unitedly and defeat it, the Governor said in his message.

PRO to Governor
Arunachal Pradesh
ITANAGAR, September 4, 2020