PRESS RELEASE

Governor calls for exercise restraint and reinforcement of the age-old tradition of good neighbours

Showing his deep concern about the wellbeing of the injured persons in the recent incidence of violence at Behali, Assam, the Governor of Arunachal Pradesh visited Shri Tadung Tachang and Shri Chalen Natung on 7th June 2015 in Ramakrishna Mission Hospital, Itanagar, where they are admitted.

Interacting with the patients and their relatives, the Governor assured his best effort for their treatment. He suggested and agreed for assistance in treatment from outside the State also if required on the request of the patients. The Governor proposed to bear the treatment bills of the patients.

The Governor apprised the patients and their relatives of the efforts by Raj Bhawan since the incident took place. He informed that police chiefs of both States of Assam and Arunachal Pradesh are in touch with him.

At the request of the patients, the Governor assured to felicitate those persons from Assam, who rescued them from the mob and took them to the Police Station for protection.

Expressing pain at the violence incidents in the inter-State boundary, the Governor called for exercise restraint and reinforcement of the age-old tradition of good neighbours.

Meanwhile, the Governor has advised the State Government to initiate appropriate action to instil confidence and amity among the people living along the inter-state boundary.
