PRESS RELEASE

Governor for an efficient, people-friendly, open and accountable administration

The Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Shri JP Rajkhowa has extended warm greetings to the people of the State on the special occasion of Good Governance Day, which commemorates the birth anniversary of renowned scholar and educationist of India Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya and former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee. He wished that the celebration of the Day will make the people aware about the government commitment for providing a fair, transparent and accountable administration in the country and also to those people in the Government, of their duties and responsibilities towards Good Governance, in the service of the Nation.

In his message, the Governor said that today, the country needs a transformation in the processes of the governance in order to provide an efficient, people-friendly, open and accountable administration in the country.

The Governor underscored that the processes and functioning have to be standardized to make it highly effective and accountable governance, while implementing the good and effective policies to complete a mission of 'good governance'. It needs to be promoted for the welfare and betterment of the common citizens in the country. He expressed hope that the celebration will make government officials aware of their work as public servants, internal processes and the need to work with full commitment. It will enhance the growth and development in the country through good governance and bring citizens closer to the government to make them active participants in the process.

On this occasion, on behalf of my beloved people of the State, I extend our heartiest Birthday Greetings and Best Wishes to Shri Vajpayeeji and wish him good health and long life to guide us for better and prosperous Arunachal Pradesh. We also pay our homage to the great nation builder Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya, the Governor added in his message.
