Governor conveys Christmas and Good Governance Day greetings

The Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Brig. (Dr.) B. D. Mishra (Retd.) has conveyed warm greetings to the people of the State on the joyous occasion of Christmas. He expressed his hope that the occasion of festivity will usher in peace and amity amongst the people.

The Governor said that the auspicious occasion of Christmas, the festival of love, inspires all to lead the life of compassion, piety and justice. The true spirit of Christmas kindles us to help those in need and give hope to those in despair. I wish that the occasion instils the spirit of kindness in every individual and community, he said.

In his message, the Governor also said that 25th December is also being observed as Good Governance Day commemorating the birth anniversary of former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee. Good Governance is the key to a Nation's development and people's progress. Our Central and the State Governments are committed to providing a transparent and accountable administration and work for the welfare and betterment of the common man. I trust this day, along with its auspiciousness, will motivate all to join in the mission of working unitedly for the prosperity of the State and our country, he said.

On the occasion of Good Governance Day, the Governor called upon the government officials to have probity, act with promptness, make equal dispensation to one and all and constantly review their own course of work for improvement wherever necessary. All government officials must live upto the expectations of the people on all counts, he said.

Wishing merry Christmas and effective Good Governance Day to all, the Governor wished in his message.
